Pennsylvania Resources Council Announces 2022 “Lens on Litter” Photo Contest
Exposure Leads to Prevention and Up To $500!

Media, PA – The Gene Capaldi Lens on Litter Photo Contest, a program of the Pennsylvania Resources Council (PRC), is an annual statewide photography contest rewarding amateur photographers who snap striking images of litter across the Commonwealth. The purpose is not to glorify litter, but to bring awareness to how litter threatens public health and safety, scenic beauty, property values, the environment and wildlife.

Who: The contest is open to Pennsylvania amateur photographers only.

Judging: Entries will be judged on six criteria; 1. anti-litter message, 2. originality, 3. photographic technique, 4. quality of photo, 5. originality of title and 6. severity of the litter.

Prizes: A top prize of $500 will be awarded in each of two categories: adult and student (through Grade 12). Four additional prizes will be awarded with second place winners receiving $250 and third place $100 in each group.

Deadline: October 31, 2022

Where: The photos must be taken in Pennsylvania by Commonwealth residents.

Include: All entries (including digital) must include: 1. entrant’s name, 2. address, 3. email address, 4. telephone number, 5. title given to photo, 6. location of litter site and 7. how you learned of the contest. For student submissions, age, grade and school name must also be provided. Photos submitted without all the above will be disqualified!
